Shrub Oak, NY - On Saturday, March 6th at 2:00 PM, U.S. Rep. John Hall (D-Dover) will join a panel of education and employment specialists, and local employers to provide jobseekers with retraining, reeducation and employment resources. The event will bring together career specialists from regional organizations that provide services ranging from career counseling and adult education to small business development. Panelists will present sector-specific skill development information, including green jobs training. They will be available for one-on-one counseling following their presentations.

Congressman Hall urges interested Hudson Valley residents to attend this Training and Opportunities fair. The event will provide attendees with an opportunity to access a number of existing employment and educational programs that will assist them in their job searches and career development efforts.

"This event will give job seekers the opportunity to connect with employment specialists and local employers," Rep. Hall said. "To those Hudson Valley residents who are looking for work, I hope you will take advantage of this resource and I hope to see you there."
